

Recognising Your Potential – Principle 1

Discover what it is you really like to do.
Seriously ask yourself this question –

If you had all the money and all the time you needed to pursue something, what would that be?

We'll could call that your PASSION.

Find your PASSION, work your PASSION, live your PASSION.

When you find your PASSION, you find yourself.
You will find you are having fun. You will find the courage to dream.

You may find your PASSION is a gift, something only YOU know about or something only YOU can do or something only YOU can inspire in others.

Whatever your PASSION, believe in it and believe in yourself.

Some people might just stumble into something that becomes their PASSION.

But if you don't go in search of it, you may never find it.

You must make an attempt.

You might be surprised with what you accomplish!

You might even find you have more than one PASSION. And you might even find you enjoy doing more than one thing. And where that leads might show you have choices. And that might be something new for you!

There could be a moment when you realise that you can achieve your ambition through using your PASSION.

What a defining moment that would be!

Whatever your PASSION is, you can be sure that if it makes someone smile or makes another person feel good about themselves or brings joy to others, this is a powerful opportunity to brighten the world around you.

It is there, you only need to find it. You need to search for it. Not in the world around you but in the world of wonder within you.

You need to connect with you!

You have knowledge and you have talents no one else has.

You are unique. There is no one else quite like you.

Treasure your talents for they become your PASSION and your PASSION becomes YOU!

So don't let another pass before you start your journey.....

Look ahead and see your POTENTIAL!!
